

TESTIMONIAL

Hereby, I certify that A K M Mahmudul Haque has participated in a cooperation project between MyHomesID Oy and Jyväskylä University of Applied Sciences (JAMK) during the spring of 2025.

Within the project, Haque has completed his internship at a university of applied sciences.

The internship has included coding work and participation in the development of the look and usability of our knowledge base product. Software development has been done with the Angular development environment for the Amazon Web Service (AWS) platform. The development work is international, and the working language is mainly English.

During the internship, Haque has established our company's API project and introduced the company's own staff to its secrets.

The cooperation has been carried out remotely and by meetings in city of Jyväskylä.

I am happy to recommend Haque for similar tasks and answer questions.
